DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings were received on 5/15/2006. These drawings are not acceptable due to the following reasons.

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference character "112" appears to represent three different parts in figures 4A- 4B. In figure 4A, reference number appears to be pointing to some sort of elongated clamp or stopper. In figure 4B, reference number 112 appears to be referencing a group of cylinders used to keep the viewing sample in place. Lastly, in figure 4C, reference number 112 appears to be referring to two rods. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4-7, 9,12-15, 17, 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wagener et al (4,262,991).

Wagener et al shows a precision travel staging system comprising a precision stage (base plate, not shown), a fixed portion (9 (plate 9 does not have to be moved)) configured to be attached to the precision stage, a movable portion (1) operatively coupled to the fixed portion (9) and selectively movable relative thereto, a securing mechanism (object holder, not shown, column 2, line 6) configured to secure a substrate at a predetermined location relative to the moving portion (1) and an actuator mechanism (5,8) operative to provide movement of the movable portion (1) in one direction relative to the fixed portion.

Regarding claims 4 and 12, the fixed portion (9) and the movable portion (1) both comprise an aperture cooperating to form a window (figure 1, not labeled) in the substrate holder and the securing mechanism is operative to secure the substrate at a selected location relative to the window.

With respect to claims 5-7 and 13-15, the staging system further includes an indexed reference system (shown on the movable portion 1, not labeled). The reference system comprises a pointer (shown on the movable portion 1, not labeled) and a plurality of reference indicia (shown on the movable portion 1, not labeled).

With respect to the method claims 17, 19 and 20, the apparatus shown by Den Engelse et al is capable of performing the method or steps in the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

- 1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
- 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
- 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
- 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 8, 16 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wagener et al (4,262,991) in view of Den Engelse et al (5,900,708).

Wagener et al shows all aspects of the applicant's invention as in claims 1 and 9, but does not include a motor or a spring biased securing mechanism. However, Den Engelse et al shows a substrate holder comprising a spring biased securing mechanism (50) used to secure the substrate to the stage and an actuator mechanism comprising a motor (34, 36). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the applicant's invention to substitute the securing mechanism (50) of Den Engelse et al for the securing mechanism (not shown) of Wagener et al in order to better secure the substrate to the movable stage 1. Additionally, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the applicant's invention to include the actuator mechanism comprising a motor (34, 36) of Den Engelse et al in order to make the movable portion (1) move automatically.

Regarding the method claim 18, the apparatus of Den Engelse et al as modified by Wagener et al is capable of performing the method or steps in the claim.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 10 and 11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed on 5/15/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Examiner believes that Wagner does anticipate the claimed invention. Wagner does disclose a moveable stage plate (9) with respect to the fixed part and a moveable object holder/plate (1) with respect to the stage plate, but that does not mean that the both the moveable stage plate and the moveable object holder have to move to use the device. The moveable stage plate 9 is considered fixed if the user does not move it with respect to the base plate.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
